Edmonton can never attain metropolitan status until the open garbage dumps are closed and replaced by adequate incinerators. Obsolete dumping grounds should be abolished now. See editorial on Page 4.

The 24th Republican National Convention was thrown into an uproar by a series of pro-Dewey declarations punctuated by announcements that rivals of the New York governor are regrouping to stop him if possible.

Kiddies Await Final Bell To Start Summer Frolic

DON'T BE SCARED, IT'S ALL LEGIT.

What a license plate! 2828-TTX.

But don't be alarmed, Edmontons! It actually exists and is all strictly legal.

The car belongs from the belle France, and that's the way they dish them out over there.

So if you see a big maroon car, bearing a red plate with those letters and numbers on it in silver with no other markings, you can probably put your self on the back and admit you've seen your first French license plate in Edmonton.

The car is owned by Don Fraser, an American living in France, who is in Alberta on a holiday and heading for Fairbanks, Alaska.

McAuley Bird Wins Long Race

A pigeon owned by Jim McAuley won the 260-mile yearling race of the Capital City Racing Pigeon Club over the week-end.

Complete results were: McAuley, 118.65; Burgett, 118.62; 118.23; McAuley Bros., 118.74; 117.84; Richards, 117.83; Walters, 117.82; Thompson, 116.73; Spratt, 115.72; Talley, 115.29; Tetterington, 114.72; Gauganet, 111.39.

The 500 mile Melville to Edmonton Derby for older birds takes place Saturday.

Exams Start For Grade 12

Alberta's Grade 12 students start writing their annual examinations today, officials of the department of education said.

Only other grade in Alberta which writes departmentally set examinations are the Grade nine pupils whose "oral by paper" commences on Thursday.

Many of the Grade 12 students will be writing their last examinations before leaving school for the last time.

Offending Motorists Pay Heavy Fines

A "guilty" plea to a charge of dangerous driving brought a fine of $30 and costs or six weeks in jail to Ernest Crockett, 36, Edmonton, in police court Tuesday.

Charges arose from an accident on 118 avenue at 5:15 p.m. Monday in which an auto driven by Crockett rammed the back of a car.

Ernest Layton, 13008 81 street, who lost an arm in a traffic accident June 5, was remanded without plea until June 25.

He was charged with dangerous driving.

For nearly 16,000 kids, the biggest day of the year—comes next Wednesday when the city schools close for the summer holidays.

Relieved from the 10-month sentence of schooling, has second long time in coming, and the youngsters can't wait to toss their books into a corner of the hall closet, and forget them until next September.

According to the teachers, the elementary school pupils are all up in the air with anticipation.

"In fact," said one teacher, "a lot of my young charges are so set-up about their forthcoming freedom, that they might just as well be out playing in the parks now."

"But, for that matter," she continued, "I'm getting a little excited myself about the holidays. As much as I like teaching, I'll be only too glad to let the mothers take over for the summer, while I lie in the sun and forget all about school."

High school students are not quite as unrestrained as their young brothers and sisters.

Final examinations are keeping the senior scholars pretty well tied down until the last day.

But despite their preoccupation with exams, they can't help sneaking in the odd thought about camping and fishing trips, swimming and boating on the lakes, and all the other delightful things which cram the elysian months of July and August.

Even the students who take jobs for the summer, are eagerly awaiting the final bell that ends the term, because they are still new to this working, to realize that Increased accommodation will be supplied for the new six-room Virginia Park school, a four-room addition to the Spruce Ave. school, two rooms at Delton, and one room at Mill Creek.

First unit of the New composite high school, which will be as part of Victoria High, will not be ready until September, 1949, according to the school board.

Now under construction, this initial section will house the shops, science laboratories and administration wing.

Tenders have not yet been called for the construction of the remainder of the school.

Repairs are planned in which a strip of copal will be laid along the faulty joint, and cemented into place.

Cost of the repair job is expected to be less than $1,000, said Mr. McFarland.

Loss of water in view of the tank's daily capacity of about 6.5 per cent, and is considered negligible, Mr. McFarland pointed out.

He added that he did not know if the fault was due to design or workmanship when the tank was constructed.

Alberta Seen On Video Screen

Alberta may be short on television sets, but many Alberta scenes have been "televised" in the United States.

The Hamilton Wright organization of New York, now in Alberta filming scenes for television broadcasts, news reels and short subjects on commercial film, announced today that both NBC and CBS television channels in the United States had projected Alberta stories to the thousands of television sets in the United States.

Included in the scenes pictured were summer skiing in the Alberta Rockies, the dinosaur parks in Calgary, and other resort scenes in the province.

The tourist bureau of the Alberta government's department of economic affairs said the Hamilton Wright cameramen were again at work in Alberta, and were paying particular attention to the Leduc-Camular oil fields.

Police Matron Beatrice Sizons had earlier testified that a murder had requested paper, pencil and an envelope. These had been given her by the unnamed letter writer left for Cpl. Charlesworth to read and censor in the morning. It was stated.

Alberta Veterans Second Largest In Farm Group

Veterans are now farming 3,576,000 acres of land across Canada, allotted them by the Veterans' Land Act, according to an announcement made today by the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Highest total acreage for a province is in Saskatchewan where 1,013,000 acres have been settled by veterans, while Alberta is second with 890,000 acres.

Figures released were complete as of April 30.

Canada, the statement said, has invested $84,064,000 in lands and buildings alone, in the three types of settlement provided by the V.L.A., to 34,013 veterans.

Retiring Banker Honored Here

A testimonial dinner for Dugald McCallum on his retirement from the management of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in Edmonton, was held Tuesday evening in the Macdonald hotel.

The dinner was attended by more than 100 friends of Mr. and Mrs. McCallum. John Michaels was chairman.

Mr. McCallum is retiring after a service of more than 40 years with the bank, and 19 years as manager of the Edmonton branch.

Robert L. Dales, of Winnipeg, supervisor of the western branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was at a staunch friend and adviser to Mr. McCallum.

Mr. McCallum was presented with a silver tea service at the dinner. The presentation was made by T. S. Magee.

Presentation of a purse to Mr. McCallum was made by Oliver C. McIntyre, who lauded Mr. McCallum as a staunch friend and adviser to his many friends at the bank.

Numerous complimentary messages from friends unable to attend the dinner were read.

Big Apple Caravan To Promote Highway

A caravan of 25 trucks will leave Vancouver for Winnipeg next September to prove the feasibility of the Yellowhead Pass route of the Trans-Canada Highway.

The trucks will be loaded with luscious apples from British Columbia's famed orchards. The apples will be dispensed in cities, towns and villages along the route.

The "Apple Caravan" is the medium designed by the Trans-Canada Highway System Association (Yellowhead Route) to focus attention on the need for completion of this highway as a major traffic artery, and to attract national attention to its many advantages.

Plans for this ambitious project were announced today by Mayor Harry Ainlay, Edmonton, president of the Association.

Appeal is made by them to all members of the Association along the 1,600 mile route to give enthusiastic support to the Caravan.

Plans for the move have been under discussion for many weeks. Various problems had to be studied so the project could be launched at the most convenient time, and with the guarantee of maximum success.

Federal authorities have granted permission to move the vehicles through park areas.

Reg. Easton, Edmonton, has been appointed organizer, and already has most of the initial plans completed.

He has discussed the proposal with residents in various centres along the route, and has had enthusiastic assurances of solid support and co-operation.

Many firms have expressed intention of having a truck in the Caravan.

The Caravan will be brought from Kamloops over the still unfinished Blue River road and then to Jasper.

It will travel east from Edmonton to Lloydminster to Saskatoon continuing on the route to Winnipeg.

Across the country there has been growing interest in the campaign to develop and complete the Yellowhead Route of the Trans-Canada Highway.

This interest has been in Eastern Canada where efforts to promote the northern route, with its many scenic and other advantages, have won high praise.

Every centre along the route is expected to play a major role in scoring the greatest highway triumph of the year.

YOUTH DRIVES 50 MPH—NO STEERING WHEEL

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—(AP)—Motorcycle officer C. D. Barkley said he overtook Everett Clyde Miller, driving 50 miles an hour without a steering wheel.

After perusing the statutes, Barkley decided that constituted operating an unsafe vehicle. He also charged Miller with speeding, faulty headlights, defective windshield, stickers placed illegally on a windshield, no registration and failing to observe a stop signal.

About that steering wheel... Barkley said the youth was using a pair of pliers to guide the car.

MDs Accept Health Plan

TORONTO, June 23.—(CP)—Some 9,000 Canadian doctors will co-operate with the federal government if it and when it inaugurates national health insurance, the general council of the Canadian Medical Association decided yesterday. The decision was reached in a camera during a council session at the CMA's 79th annual meeting, an association official disclosed.

He said the council believed the federal government had already paved the way for national health insurance by:

1. Conducting a survey of health service needs of all Canadian provinces.
2. Granting money to provinces for support of control of cancer, venereal diseases, tuberculosis, polio and for support of other health services.
- Dr. J. F. Anderson of Saskatchewan was named the association's president-elect and Dr. D. S. Lewis, honorary treasurer. Dr. Harris McFadden of Toronto was elected chairman of the council.

The CMA annual meeting will be held next year in Saskatoon.

Damage Of $400 Caused To School

CALGARY, June 23.—(CP)—Police disclosed yesterday that damage amounting to almost $400 was caused to the new Mountview school in Northeast Calgary during last week-end. Youthful vandals are believed responsible. A five-gallon can of asphalt was poured over floor of several rooms, into radiator pipes and spouts of drinking fountain. An electric clock was smashed. The school will be under construction.

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) said there have been forecasts that Canada now is 30,000,000 pounds short and that a serious shortage will develop in November.

TWO SIDES SATISFIED
"I am not in a position to dispute what the member has just said, but I do not think anyone can say how much we are short at the present time," McCubbin replied.

"I am not saying we are short. The consumer is getting all the benefit he wants—and at the ceiling price, a curtailed price for which he should be thankful. The producer is not kicking; he is getting a fair price. When you have the producer and the consumer satisfied you have gone a long way."

Six bills were adopted and some progress was made in the study of the Resources Department estimates. Resources Minister MacKinnon said he could not give details about a "highly-secret" atomic energy research project being undertaken by "certain" government departments.

PLAN FORESTRY ACT
The minister disclosed that a forestry act will be introduced at the next session of parliament. The details have not been worked out but the bill will be aimed at "development and conservation of Canada's forests."

Except for a brief flare-up on the bill extending the life of the Agricultural Prices Support Act, the session of parliament was uneventful. It was adjourned at 12:30 p.m.

Mayors Talk Housing, Jobless, Aged Pensions

By Joe MacSweeney
HALIFAX, June 23.—(CP)—Housing, unemployment and old age pensions were among subjects discussed yesterday as the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities began its 11th annual conference.

Mayor Lucien Borne of Quebec, chairman of a committee on tax presented a report in which he exemption of Crown properties, urged that the federal government again be asked for declaration of policy on this matter. Halifax and Saint John, N. B., have been granted payments in lieu of taxation on railway properties during the last year. Mr. Borne said "if this has been considered justified in some cases, the principle should apply in general."

The conference decided by resolution that the federal government be urged to recognize and assume full and complete responsibility for the necessary relief of all unemployed employable."

Murphy Reports On City Hall

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy

Proposal to disturb a caveat, on property in the Glenora district, that restricts the territory to a private dwelling, has aroused considerable ire against the civic administration.

Residents in the district have built magnificent homes, considering themselves securely protected by the caveat against such structures as apartment blocks and auto camps.

They pride themselves on being residents in the only strictly one-family dwelling zone in the city, and are incensed at the proposal to rezone a section of the area to permit erection of apartment blocks.

The district threatened with rezoning is located between 137 and 138 streets and 102 avenue.

The caveat, restricting the area to private dwelling construction, was entered by James Curriehers, in December 1911.

Its intent is clear. The caveat was designed to make the district one of the city's most fashionable residential districts.

Besides confining building to private homes, the caveat sets a minimum on the cost of a home to be erected. It prohibits advertising, and carries many other restrictions.

Now the city proposes to rezone the district of lots to permit erection of apartment houses, and also to provide a neighborhood shopping center.

Direct action is being taken by the residents to stop the violation of the caveat.

A petition is being circulated throughout the district, and is meeting with ready support. The petition will be presented to civic officials in the near future.

If residents' representations are not successful the legality of the caveat will be tested in the courts. Residents state they are prepared to carry their case to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Garson Blocks Move For Grain Settlement

Manitoba has temporarily blocked any move by the provincial and dominion governments to market coarse grains through the wheat board.

Premier Garson of Manitoba announced that his government would not call a special session to pass the necessary legislation required by the dominion government.

The Manitoba decision has made it unnecessary for a special session of the legislature to be called in Alberta, as dominion authorities have already required complementary legislation from all three prairie provinces before proceeding with its phase of the plan.

All preliminary work for the calling of a special session of the Alberta legislature had been done while Premier Ernest Manning and Hon. Lucien Maynard were at the Ottawa conference.

The date of the special session was being awaited when the Manitoba Premier's decision of the other two prairie governments.

Even if a special session were called, and the necessary legislation required by federal authorities passed, the marketing of LAST LOOK down the rails is taken by engineer L. E. "Nick" Nichols, 11104 127 street, before he descends from a Northern Alberta Railways engine cab for the last time. Nick, as his fellow-workers affectionately call him, has reached retirement age, and pulled his last train into the Edmonton CNR station at 12:15 Tuesday.

AFTER 46 YEARS

Veteran NAR Engineer Makes Final Line Run

By Don Flach

MORE WIRES GO UNDER

Electric light wires along 101 street from Jasper avenue north are going underground.

Monday afternoon gangs from the city electric light department started work on installation of a huge transformer on the east side of 101 street, immediately north of 102 avenue.

Other workers were ripping out a trench along the street south towards Jasper avenue for installation of the underground wire service.

This work is a continuation of the civic plan to eventually place all electric and telephone communication wires underground.

Nick has made his last run at the throttle of an NAR locomotive.

At 12:15 Tuesday noon, L. E. "Nick" Nichols stepped down from the cab of his Northern Alberta Railways locomotive, and marked the end of a 46-year career of railroading.

On hand to greet him were friends and fellow workers who had tolled and sweated with him on the decks of engines, pulling trains over the routes of the old Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia, and the Alberta and Great Waterways lines which were later to become known under the simple title of Northern Alberta Railways.

Heading the parade was G. H. Linney, assistant to general manager of the line, J. M. Macarthur, and at his side, George Malloy, who fired one of the first engines Nick drove on the line, and now general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers here.

Also joining in the back-slapping were Lynn Bell, himself a retired engineer, engineers Jack Bennett and Gordon Flemming, and foreman of engines R. D. C. Conrill.

Mr. Nichols started his railroading career in 1902 on the Santa Fe construction service working out of Gainsville, Texas, and got his first experience in the engine cab in 1904 when he started firing on the run from Fort Worth, Texas, to Denver, Colorado.

He came to Edmonton in 1913 to work for the Northern Construction Company for a year, before transferring to the EDBC Ry. as a engineer on a work train.

Much travelling during the '20's and '30's was on the run to Waterways, where he became a familiar figure to farmers, homemakers, and school children whom he always greeted with a friendly wave from his cab window.

As for the future, Nick is glad to get away from the railways, for a while at least, he says.

He has a cabin-trailer ready to go, and plans to take a trip to the coast, and along the way, he says, there's going to be lots of time for fishing.

Aid, Sidney Parsons, vice-chairman of the fund, stated today that no canvassers would be employed in the campaign, as it is a voluntary fund, and civic officials are depending on the generosity of Edmontonians and district residents to come to the aid of their stricken neighbors.

Adoption Procedure Again Under Attack

IODE Counsel Critical

Of Methods Used by Dept.

Procedure in U.S. adoptions of Alberta-born babies was attacked by IODE counsel, George Steer, KC, at a Tuesday sitting of the Royal Commission probing provincial welfare conditions.

For the second successive day, Mr. Steer spent the entire three and one-half hours of the sitting cross-examining C. B. Hill, superintendent of welfare for Alberta.

Using actual cases as examples, Mr. Steer charged that it is unsafe to rely on references without personal interviews with people seeking adoption of a child.

Alberta adoption rules state that three references submitted by such people are sufficient, and personal interviews are not required.

UNFAVORABLE REPORTS

In addition to attacking the reference system, Mr. Steer stated there are cases of U.S. adoptions of Alberta babies, in which the three references were not all favorable toward the people seeking adoption.

In one such case, a clergyman submitted a reference form in which he stated, in effect, "I do not consider them (the couple) fit to raise a Roman Catholic child."

In another case, a widow reportedly sought adoption of a child "to keep herself from going to pieces."

Mr. Steer stated that in some cases, such unfavorable references were not placed before the court legalizing the adoptions.

He suggested to the Commission that "This (child welfare) department has not been fair to the courts in the procedure, and this is borne out by the fact that the whole method has been changed."

It had been hoped to make a lengthy test run commencing in June this year, but fire destroyed a machine shop and some supplies needed earlier this year and delayed the start of the test to August.

OWN REFERENCES

Mr. Steer also stated that in several cases, an affidavit signed by Mr. Hill has been one of the necessary three—and in some cases only—recommendations for the parents.

"I wonder if your signing up of any individual is sufficient?" he asked.

Mr. Hill replied that in many cases he knew the persons seeking children, well enough that other recommendations were not necessary.

In his questioning of Mr. Hill on U.S. adoption procedure, Mr. Steer intimated that he may call the U.S. consul in Edmonton into Royal Commission hearings.

Berries By Plane
From Peace River

By Bea Thrifty

This isn't the of raspberry—but the strawberry situation is on the top rung of the ladder.

CP airlines brought several cases of the good, red fruit from the Peace River district. No appreciable change in prices as the quantities are limited—but they are available at 25c to 35c per pint basket.

Variance in price depends, of course, on the condition of the berries.

First grade berries will sell at the 25c to 30c mark during the week-end, peak of the strawberry season.

Others may be available for as little as 20c per basket—if you want to take the risk of buying berries "run through the mill" of weather and transportation.

Tomatoes and cucumbers, still high and mighty, will apparently remain that way for at least another week.

Wholesalers mean that they are foregoing profits to try to maintain a friendly basis with the consumer.

Field cauliflower from British Columbia is drifting in and will sell at the week-end at a price hovering around 55c per head. Lettuce will go for a comparative and this week-end—at prices varying from 5c to 20c per head.

Carrots, a bone of contention with wholesalers, will arrive from California in a few days at 10c per pound which fits the government ceiling recently established.

Profit realized by dealers is negligible—but they continue to handle them to accommodate the consumer, local hustlers' style.

You can add flirtatious petticoats to your wardrobe by adding ruffles to your too-short slips.

Many women are finding it fun to exercise together and "Why Grow Old?" clubs are springing up all over the country. Jane Harker studies one of the more popular leaflets for reducing in general.

WHY GROW OLD

Fun to Exercise At
Why Grow Old Clubs

By Josephine Lowman

Lately I have been suggesting that various groups would profit by forming "Why Grow Old?" clubs. Exercises are so much more fun when done with someone than

Even if the club meets only once a week it will provide stimulation which will help you carry on by yourself between times. I have seen this happen in my once or twice a week classes.

"I am writing in behalf of a small group of women who are interested in improving their health. We formed a club for this purpose. We began meeting with the idea that if we met every Friday night, it would inspire us."

So far we have just talked. This has been going on since May, 1947. As an incentive we decided to collect club dues and give a prize to the one who accomplished most in self-improvement.

"Most of the women read your column regularly. I told them I would write you and tell you our troubles. Instead of 'improving' for Christmas we had all gained weight and now are talking of summer clothes and figures. We are 30 to 40 years of age."

"Would you be willing to send us some leaflets about diet and exercise and posture? And would you be willing to act as our judge?"

I know just how they felt. The fanciful tangents of human nature are always intriguing even if they are not always constructive. So far as I can see, they spent the club dues on food rather than on a prize!

When good fellows get together it is easy to find the time to talk. However, I have great hopes of this club, because if they are still clinging to the idea after a year they probably will come through with results.

Also, part of their trouble was probably in not knowing just how to proceed. I sent the leaflets and told them that I could imagine nothing more fun than acting as their judge.

Others may wish to form small "Why Grow Old?" groups for exercise and diet. My leaflet No. 1, "General Reducing Routine," should be helpful to all members.

It may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper. Each member should read the column regularly and send for leaflets which would be helpful.

Send your order to The Edmonton Bulletin, Pattern Department, 60 Front Street, W., Toronto, I.A. Ont. Please allow a week or 10 days for delivery.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Cruelty Rarely Seen
In Small Children

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Children are not often cruel to small children, certainly not deliberately. Mothers, the right kind of mothers, are so tender toward all infants that the children imitate their attitude and manners.

While children of two or three might lose a baby too roughly, without consciousness of its being hurt, there has to be some other reason for children to attack helpless baby and bruise and hurt it seriously.

"Bewildered" wonders what I could tell her would prompt three small children of 2½ to 4 years to scratch and pound a seven-month-old baby.

"She was asleep in her carriage," her mother writes, "and it was just outside of our front door, which is a long distance from the street."

"The skin around her eyes was all torn and her face was swollen until she was hardly recognizable. They even pounded her stomach, as it was all black and blue."

"She is so nervous now, as I am I—she screams each time any one looks in her carriage. I cannot sleep at night for thinking of what might have happened if I had not arrived on the scene when I did."

One is constrained to ask: Where was the mother when the baby first began to cry? Had you been right at hand some of this damage could not have taken place. So one thing that may keep you awake is wondering how much of this guilt you must bear for not being right at hand to protect the baby from such an attack.

You are right, it is hard to understand why the children should have displayed this senseless ferocity. You are right, it is hard to understand why the children should have displayed this senseless ferocity.

Our leaflet No. 74 "Undesirable Puberty," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Sun Baby—But Go Easy!"

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Male Appearance
Could Be Improved

From various statistical reports I gather that more and more men are frequenting beauty shops and spending millions a year on having themselves furnished up.

Certainly the world will be a more attractive place in which to live when every man counts his calories and takes up improving his appearance in a serious way.

And why shouldn't men prettify themselves? Goodness knows they need it. Most of us need to circumvent Nature and supply through art the deficiencies that she left out of our make-up.

But while women have always painstakingly and with suffering and prayer and fasting, striven to make themselves easy upon the eyes of the public, men have been content to remain as they were created.

Women endure the agony of starvation in order to retain a girlish figure. They undergo the tortures of being scalped to have a permanent wave put in their hair. They spend far too much money on the lines and colors they can wear.

But men cheerfully let themselves get bay-windowed and with rolls of fat overflowing their collar. They make no effort to camouflage their bald patches.

Why they devote so little personal intelligence to their appearance, nobody knows, sometimes I think it is because they have so little vanity that they never look in a mirror.

Perhaps it is because they are so superhumanly consoled that they consider themselves so ravishingly handsome just as they are that they don't need any aids to their beauty.

BRIDGE

Endplay Is Key To 3-N.T. Bid

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

The women bridge players of Cleveland, O., are probably the best organized tournament group in the country. At the Ohio state tournament they saw to it that all of the members had an enjoyable time. Mrs. H. J. White has been an actor in tournament affairs in Cleveland for a number of years and is a consistent winner. She and Mrs. H. D. McKnight, also of Cleveland, won

♠ 4	♥ A K J	♦ A K Q	♣ A K Q

Tournament—Neither was South West North East N.T. Pass 2 N.T. Pass

Opening—K 23 the women's pair championship this year.

Mrs. White recognized today's hand as an endplay situation rather than a hold-up. She allowed the opening lead of the king of hearts to hold and when West continued with the queen, declarer did not make the mistake of holding up until the third round. She won the trick with the ace of hearts.

She knew that she had three spade tricks, a heart, three clubs and the ace of diamonds. A three-three break in either spades or clubs would give her the ninth trick. She could take the diamond finesse, but if it lost, West would cash the balance of the hearts. So she was careful to save a small heart in her hand.

She tried out the spade suit and on the third spade West discarded a diamond. Then she tried out the club suit and again West showed out on the third round, discarding another diamond. Now Mrs. White did not have to guess the diamond play. She simply led the small heart from her hand and West won with the jack. West could cash the two good hearts, but then she had to lead a diamond into Mrs. White's ace-queen, thus giving her nine tricks.

Dorothy Lawlor Home Mateless

NEW YORK, June 23.—(CP)—Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor, the 28-year-old "wife-for-$10,000" was back home but still mateless today after a husband-hunting expedition which took her as far south as the Dominican Republic.

The blonde divorcee went two weeks ago to Dayton Beach Fla., to meet businessman Dan Wicker who accepted by phone her offer to marry him for $10,000. Mrs. Lawlor learned that Wicker was a wife.

"I had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Lawlor who plans to spend the next few days getting acquainted with her two children at her parents' home.

Mrs. Lawlor flew from Florida to Tampa, Fla., the Dominican Republic capital, at the invitation of a business man there. She said her last was "a very charming gentleman."

Finance Minister Abbott, piloting a bill which would overhaul income tax administration, said it is a question of policy. But he promised to "see what, if anything, can be done."

The question was raised by J. M.
Macdonnell (P.C., Muskoka-Ontario) who said: "I am not speaking for West. Both referred to a privy council ruling that sale of oil is realization of capital asset and therefore not subject to tax."

Mr. Abbott said the section "is not designed to tax oil royalties as such." His real intention was to "affect a transaction which is an exchange of rights for royalties which are income."

"This is a tax on capital. That in laymen's language is what happened. . . . This policy is a departure from the over-all principle of our taxation because we in Canada have not yet seen fit, as they have in the United States to some extent to tax capital gains."

"Why we should pick out these poor farmers—they were poor; they are no longer—said that capital gains while we do not tax the capital gains of well-off people who buy stocks and shares, is something I cannot understand."
